PEASANT ATTITUDE ALARMS LENINE

Active Revolt Against Bolsheviks Occurred a Few Weeks Ago

The Red Guards Suppressed Outbreaks Using Artillery

Many of the Peasants Were Cruelly Massacred

(By Associated Press)

Paris, December 31.—(Havas).—The attitude of the peasants in the region of Moscow is alarming the Lenin government, according to the Petrograd correspondent of the Journal.

Early in December, he reports, the peasants actively revolted and it was a week before they were subdued.

The Bolshevik Red Guard broke down opposition with utmost severity. The peasants were poorly armed and forced to surrender in large numbers.

Numerous villages were razed by artillery and a large number of peasants were massacred.

The peasants, the correspondent continues, maintain their attitude of opposition to the Bolsheviks.

The presidential train reached Dover at 11:00 o'clock and little time was lost in boarding the steamer Brighton which set out almost immediately on the cross channel trip.

FAVORABLE REPORT ON ARCHANGEL CONDITIONS

Rumors That Allied Forces Were About to be Overcome by Bolsheviks

Are Found on Investigation to Have Been without Basis in Fact

Reports of Deprivations of the Allied Soldiers Found to be Gross Exaggerations

Washington, December 31.—Favorable reports on the situation in the Archangel region where some unofficial accounts had pictured the allied forces facing destruction in the hands of the Bolsheviks, overwhelming numbers have been given to the State Department by G. A. Martiuszine, representative of the Archangel government.

According to these reports the Bolshevik soldiers are offered by Germans and consequently are able to make good use of their artillery and rapid fire guns but have no stomach for fighting that does not keep them at a distance from their opponents.

It was officially stated today that Mr. Martiuszine had conferred with Acting Secretary Polk, and that his information showed that the situation well in hand from the viewpoint of the allies.

Mr. Polk said the Department had no information to bear out the reports related to in the Senate yesterday that United States soldiers in the Archangel region were without proper clothing and were sleeping in swamps. He intimated that reports of undue hardships in the Archangel region probably were greatly exaggerated.

EXPLOSIONS IN HOMES OF JUDGES ROCK CITY

Shrapnel Shells Loaded With T. N. T. Exploded in Homes of Three Prominent Philadelphians

Damage is Heavy But No Loss of Life Occurred

Revenge on Account of Law Enforcement Believed to be Cause

(By Associated Press)

Philadelphia, December 31.—Shrapnel shells, loaded with nitroglycerine or TNT were exploded late last night at the homes of three prominent men.

There was considerable destruction of property but no one was killed.

Revenge against the judicial and police authorities for enforcing the law against sedition and display of the red flag of anarchy in this city, police officials said, furnished the motive.

The houses attacked here were those of Justice Robert Mischick of the Pennsylvania supreme court; Ernest T. Trigg, president of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, and William B. Mills, acting superintendent of police. Eight houses adjoining these residences were damaged.

At the scene of the explosion the police picked up circulars printed on yellow paper which contained the text of the bomb throwers.

The heading read: "To the exploiters, judges, policemen, priests and soldiers." This was followed by 200 words of a harangue on the "rights of the people."

WAR'S COST FOR YEAR ENORMOUS

(By Associated Press)

Washington, December 31.—It cost the American people about $18,100,000,000 to run its expensive war government and make loans to the allies in the year ending today, according to computation from treasury reports.

December expenditures were above two billion dollars, the record of the nation's history, sent war cost today to approximately $24,500,000,000.

Of the $18,100,000,000 paid out of the treasury's coffers in 1918, probably $10,000,000,000 went for the army and the general military establishment, about two billion for the navy, a billion for ship building, a billion for other civil government needs and $4,150,000,000 loans to allies.

FIREMEN WILL ENFORCE HOURS

(By Associated Press)

Cleveland, O., December 31.—City firemen at midnight tonight will, on their own initiative enforce the 8-hour day provision approved by the voters in 1917 but never put into effect because of lack of city finances.

Action of the firemen was determined by a vote today when 453 out of a total of 488 firemen approved the arbitrary fixing of working hours.

As a consequence, according to C. Urbanowicz, president of the Firemen's Union two-thirds of the firemen on duty in the various stations will walk out at midnight, leaving the other third on duty.

At eight o'clock tomorrow morning the night shift will go home and another shift come on. There will be another shift at four o'clock.

THE DEMAND OF POLAND IS REFUSED BY THE HUNS

Will Not Consent to Use of the Railroads From Border to Vilna

Say Permission of Allies Must First be Obtained

(By Associated Press)

London, December 31.—Germany has refused to accede to the demands of the Poles that the British troops be permitted to use the railroads from the Polish border to Warsaw advices to the Mail.

The Berlin government is said to have based its refusal on the grounds that permission from the Entente nations was necessary.

In the meantime it is said the Germans have demanded that German troops returning from Russia be allowed to use Polish railways. It was urged by Berlin that 100,000 German soldiers would otherwise be compelled to march through Poland. The Poles have consented to this arrangement with the stipulation that the German troops be disarmed.

GEN. PERSHING LIVES SIMPLY IS VERY BUSY

Little Red Tape Used About General Headquarters Where
Chief of U. S. Forces Resides

Formality Dispensed With by Busy General Who Ob.
Long Hours

Chaumont, Haute Marne, France November 23.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—When he is here at General Headquarters General Pershing leads a very busy but very simple life. There is little ceremony of an ostentatious kind either at his chateau or around his offices.
There is nothing to distinguish his office rooms in "A" building of the headquarters group from those of any other officer. One orderly sits at his door, there is no sentry and the visitor walks unannounced into the adjoining reception room to be received by one of his staff.

General Pershing's trips to and from his chateau in the country are made in his motor car, distinguished only by its red four starred insignia on the windshield and where would be the number plate, which slips unnoticed along the road and through the city. Ordinarily he is accompanied only by his personal aide, his staff following at a distance great enough not to mark the big cars as one squadron.

In fine weather he sometimes walked the two or three miles from the outskirts of Chaumont to his country home, and that, with quiet horseback rides through the beautiful country hereabouts, gave him his needed exercise.

Much of his time since last Spring when the American forces began real participation in strength in the fighting, has been spent at Advanced Army Headquarters. These have been at various places, sometimes at a distance to entail long, hard automobile rides from them to Chaumont when circumstances demanded his presence here. Often after a hard day at Advanced Headquarters the General has made the three or four-hour drive late at night, only to depart early the next day. His powerful closed car with double rear wheels usually travels at high speed and, in its comfortable cushions, he obtains the rest denied him in bed.

Life at General Pershing's chateau is plain to the point of simplicity. Except for the beautiful old castle and its picturesque setting in the Valley of the Marne, it might be the home life of any fairly well to do American business man. Only unfamiliarity of his military household get it apart. His personal staff lives with him and his servants are negro soldiers detailed. And they are good as his few guests can testify.

None on his table simple, well cooked American dishes, usually three or at most four courses, including coffee and cheese and served American style.

No sentries are in evidence, nothing to mark the Chateau as the residence of the Commander in Chief.
The visitor's car drives through a plain unguarded gateway in a closely set grove, along a curving roadway for a few hundred yards, and then only is had the first glimpse of the old castle, lying in its parks and lawns bordered on one side by a long sweeping curve of the River Marne and its canal, lined on either bank with tall poplars set equidistant and lending an added touch of formality to the always formal French landscape.

Often General Pershing, himself, rises from a seat on the terrace to greet a guest and, if not, one of his staff. The meal is very informal, conversation being general and the Commander-in-Chief apparently does not like to linger at table. Afterward coffee and cigars in the big lounge room or a stroll under the trees until the General indicates that his leisure is ended.

WOUNDED COMRADES ENJOY REUNION

Wounded in action and now on the road to recovery, Corporal Hughey Backenstoe and Harold Rodgers, both M Company boys, are enjoying the day together at Rodger's home near Bloomingburg, where they are having "mess" together for the first time since they were in action together on the battlefield near Chateau Thierry when they were doing their part in driving the Huns toward Hunland.

Corporal Backenstoe was wounded by shrapnel and Pvt. Rodgers had a machine gun bullet through the foot, but is recovering rapidly, and was able to drive an automobile into this city on Tuesday morning and take his comrade back with him for a sumptuous dinner at the Rodgers home.

On Wednesday evening both soldiers return to the hospitals to which they have been assigned, Backenstoe to West Baden and Rodgers to Camp Taylor.

P. O. DAUGHTERS ANSWERS CALL

The funeral services of Mr. P. O. Daughters, who died Sunday evening at six o'clock at his home on the corner of Main and Paint streets, will be held at the home Wednesday at 1:00 p. m. Burial will be made in the Greenfield cemetery. Funeral will be private, but the casket will be open from 10:30 to 12 o'clock Wednesday.

For the past two or three years Mr. Daughters has suffered from a serious heart trouble, which was the cause of his demise.

For the past twelve years, with the exception of a short time spent in Columbus, Mr. Daughters has resided in this city, where his likable personality and integrity won the respect of the community and many friends, who have learned of his death with deep regret.

He was born and raised near Highland, Highland county, in which vicinity he retained warm friends.

A widow, one son, Harry, who is married and lives in Columbus, and two sisters, Mrs. Beck, of Highland, and Mrs. Savage, of Wilmington, survive.

TAX PAYMENTS

At the close of business Monday evening the tax receipts at the county treasurer's office had reached $79,238.79.

SELLS 32 CATTLE FOR COOL $8,010

Elijah Hoppes, well known farmer and stock feeder east of Redkey, received a check last week in the sum of $8,010 for 32 head of cattle which he fed out at his farm. They sold at $18.75 per hundred, which is the highest price ever paid for feeders shipped from this county.

Mr. Hoppes said that he learned years ago that one of the secrets of being a good cattle feeder was to always have his cattle contented, and the cattle certainly looked the part. They were great, big, smooth animals and looked like those you see in pictures. Two of the bunch were his own raising and were yearlings—Redkey, (Ind.) Times.

1600 DOG OWNERS ARE DELINQUENT

An examination of the records at the County Auditor's office reveals the fact that unless there has been a wholesale slaughter of dogs in Fayette county during the last 12 months there are approximately 1600 dog owners in the county who will be delinquent in paying their dog taxes after New Year's day.

The total number of licenses issued up to near noon hour Tuesday had reached 1020, or approximately 1600 short of the number of licenses issued last year.

The New Year

If the young men and women of America, just coming on to the great stage of the world in the tremendous drama of life, would all realize, first of all, on the first day of the new year, what a vast difference there is between making good and forming a fixed opinion that they have made good, in their chosen vocation, it would, perhaps, be more helpful to them in playing well their part through life, than any other one thing.

To make good, as we Americans express it, is a great benefit and insures success, but when young folks get the idea fixed in their heads that they have made good and demand consideration based on the opinion they hold of their own abilities rather than for what they really accomplish it is a detriment and means failure.

The oncoming generation of Americans, as Father Time opens the door of the new year, will see a vista of glorious opportunity, the equal of which was never presented before since time has been ushering in the years. Opportunity there has always been with each year's beginning, as it came along, that's true, but not the multitude of chances, nor the comforts, the joys and the security of living which the coming year will present.

Only one year ago, when Time opened the door to the new year, that passes into history tonight at midnight, we could see nothing but the dark pall of war and we trembled for the future of our boys and girls. We were confident, of course, as the year 1918 dawned, that behind the black curtain of war somewhere was peace and victory, but none of us knew, and few dared to hope, that toward the end of the year's corridor, the curtain would part, revealing the glorious future of tomorrow.

Last year on New Year's Day the world regarded the fate of the present generation, of young men and young women of America, as tragic. Upon them the responsibilities of war descended, they were required to enter the shadow and fight their way through, if possible, or give their lives, if need be, in the struggle.

They met the challenge bravely, they fought the fight, they have pushed back the curtain which hid the glorious conclusion of that year. Some gave up their lives back yonder in the shadows, they were denied even the view beyond the clouds, but they died in a glorious cause and their spirits looked down from the heights as their comrades struggled on to victory.

It's up to the young men and women of America, as they step across the threshold of the new year, to prove that they appreciate the sacrifice made and the victory won. It's up to them, and to all of us, to make good and not to be content with acting upon the unwarranted presumption that we have done our part.

We stood in awe of the dark prospect of 1918 and now at the beginning of 1919 we stand dumbfounded in the very glory of the future which is at hand.

Welcome to 1919.

American Ideals

Those were glorious sentiments expressed by President Wilson in his speech at Manchester, England, on Monday morning.

"If the future had nothing for us but a new attempt to keep the world at the right poise by a balance of power the United States would take no interest in it, because she will join no combination of power which is not a combination of us all."

That correctly expresses the views of American citizens regarding any alliance with European powers. Any other alliance, with those powers, than the one stated by President Wilson, would be "entangling" and harmful to the United States and, in no way helpful in the great work which humanity has undertaken, would hamper, rather than further, the great cause for which thousands of men have given their lives.

The great partnership must be devoted to the right and not selfish interest because "interest does not bind men together—it separates them."

These principles must control in the peace conference and it will mean, as the President pointed out, a multitude of difficulties in the settlement of boundaries and other material matters, which can only be satisfactorily settled and finally settled, when each nation represented at the peace conference table, holds friendship for mankind above material gain and selfish interest.

It is the Monroe Doctrine world-wide. The ideals of the Declaration of Independence expressed in plain understandable English, proposed to the world as the only secure foundation upon which to erect the great peace structure.

POEM FOR TODAY

A SONG OF THE BEST THINGS
In a song like this the words should ring
With a full-toned note from the singer's throat,
And his joy should cleave, like a bird a-wing.
Through the sky, till the stars shall with him sing,
And the angels join, till the glad heavens fling
Back to earth in a flood each golden note.

Best thing, my soul, let us hymn their praise—
The light of the sun, that to all is free,
And the sun himself with his quickening rays,
Who, like his eternal Maker, stays
Steadfast and sure in the skyway ways,
Making the fogs and the shadowy flees.

The common earth and the common air,
The common bodies in which we move,
The common joys which the common share,
The common sorrows the common bear
And the common death that ends our care,
And reunites in the common love.

To each and to all are the best things free,
For He who giveth His treasures thus
Is the Best of the best, and to you and me
He giveth Himself, that we all may be As open-hearted in love as He Who finds His joy in the love of us.

So sing with me, let the glad words ring
Like the bulbul's note from her throbbing throat,
And our joy shall cleave, like a bird a-wing,
Through the skies, till the stars shall with us sing,
and the angels join, till the heavens fling
Back to earth in the flood each golden ring.

TAFT APPROVES

(By Associated Press)
New York, December 31.—In an address before Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences former President Wm. H. Taft expressed approval of the President's trip abroad and of his plan for a league of nations. President Wilson has more influence with the common people of England and the other Allies than their own princes, Prof. Taft asserted. He attributed this to the President's endorsement of principles for which the United States entered the war and also to the league of nations proposed.

LET'S TALK IT OVER—BY HAL COFFMAN

Your Big Chance. The New Year is before you. Also your new big chance. The man of tomorrow is the man who "sticks to his knitting" today. The war clouds have passed and the silver lining in them is the business chance before you. The real business men are the ones to come. The world has undergone the greatest change in history—for the better. Business and you never had a better chance then now. But first prepare for it by taking that old buck saw and sawing wood. In other words, save your money, so you'll be ready when a chance comes for an investment. Watch your chance and use your noodle. The man of today who does not profit by the endless opportunities ahead of him sure has something loose in his attic.

STAR RESTAURANT CHANGES OWNERS

The Star Restaurant, formerly Smith Brothers restaurant, located on Court street opposite the Postoffice, and for several years owned and operated by John Haggard, has changed hands, Los Crone and Tom Easton being the new owners and they will assume charge at seven o'clock tonight.

The name of the restaurant will be changed to the "People's Cafe" and some radical changes will be made, with particular attention given to catering to both men and women, with a specialty of full meals and short orders.

A special turkey dinner will feature the first day of the restaurant under new management, and this and other special dinners on Sundays and holidays will be the best that Chef Easton can produce.

Mr. Easton will have charge of the kitchen and Mr. Crone will manage the dining room.

C. W. B. M.

The C. W. B. M. will meet at the home of Mrs. H. L. Spray, East Market street, Thursday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock. We urge all members to be present.

12 WERE KILLED BY EXPLOSIONS

(By Associated Press)
Lebanon, N. J., December 31.—Twelve persons were killed here last night and 12 others injured by two gas explosions in the Lebanon postoffice. The first explosion blew the roof from the building and the second caused the walls to collapse, burying all within the building in debris.

Town officials, who started an investigation of the tragedy, reported that the explosions originated in the basement of the buildings, where a large tank of artificial gas was located.

The first explosion virtually demolished the interior of the building and shattered windows throughout the town. The second brought the walls crashing down and started the fire.

Of the injured several were severely burned before they could be extricated from the wreckage and turned to near-by houses, hastily removed into first-aid stations. Some physicians say, probably will die.

The building burst into flames following the second explosion and, for a time, it appeared that other buildings in the vicinity would be destroyed.

WOUNDED CHEER RED CROSS NURSES

(By Associated Press)

Meiz, December 31.—Thirty-three American wounded soldiers in a ward of a hospital here who were left behind by the Germans when they evacuated Metz cheered and shouted when two American Red Cross nurses arrived here to care for them. The nurses were Miss R. H. Baxter of Lewiston, Mont., and Miss Marion Whitney, of New York City. It is asserted that they were the first American women to enter Metz after the Germans left. They had been summoned in haste from Paris by an American Red Cross physician, Dr. E. F. Pope of Spokane, Wash., who entered Metz four hours after the Germans departed.

When the nurses arrived the Americans were overjoyed and all wanted to talk to them at once. They had been virtually unattended for three days. Many of them were unshaven.

Paris, December 31.—Stephen Pichon, Foreign Minister, said to the Associated Press:

"We have been attacked. We desire security. We have been despoiled; we demand restitution. We have been devastated; we desire reparation."

Get your organs of digestion, assimilation and elimination working in harmony and watch your trouble disappear. NR does it or money back.

One Day's Test Proves NR Best

The stomach only partly digests the food we eat. The process is finished in the intestines where the food is mixed with bile from the liver. It must be plain to any sensible person who realizes this, that the stomach, liver and bowels must work in harmony if digestive troubles are to be avoided or overcome. This fact also explains why sufferers from indigestion, also suffer more or less from headaches, biliousness and constipation. Give it a trial for a week or two and just see how much better you feel. See how quickly your sluggish bowels will become as regular as clock work, how your coated tongue clears up and your good, old-time appetite returns. See how splendidly your food will digest and how your energy, "pep" and "ginger" revive. Just try it. You take no risk whatever for Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is only 25c a box, enough to last twenty-five days, and it must help and benefit you to your entire satisfaction, or money returned. Five million boxes are used every year—one million NR Tablets are taken by ailing people every day—that's the best proof of its merits. Nature's Remedy is the best and safest thing you can take for biliousness, constipation, indigestion and similar complaints. It is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

News of Interest to Women

A nuptial event of paramount importance in society circles of Xenia on New Years day is also fraught with interest in local circles, where the bride, Miss Emily Messenger, the charming daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Mesesnger, has frequently visited.

The bridegroom is a young business man of Springfield, Mr. Royal Conrad Leslie.

It will be a brilliant church wedding at the First Presbyterian church at half past four in the afternoon followed by a reception at the home. Mr. and Mrs. Austin F. Hopkins and son, Mr. Edwards Hopkins, will be among the guests attending both ceremony and reception.

The future home of the bride and bridegroom will be at 1138 North Limestone street, Springfield.

Complimenting her niece, Miss Opal Stanforth, who has been visiting her during the Denison University holidays, Mrs. G. C. Kidner charmingly entertained a dozen of the young friends of Miss Stanforth's former residence here, Monday afternoon.

The girls temporarily home from their various colleges greatly enjoyed the opportunity of visiting together and "swapping" experiences. The special attraction of the afternoon proved to be the cunning little son of the house Gilbert.

Mrs. Kidner served a dainty collation.

The guests included Misses Marion and Margaret Christopher, Eleanor McClain, Beatrice Porter, Dora May Stewart, Lizzie Ellen Green, Chloe Anderson, Mary Persinger, Mina French, Bernice O'Brien.

Mrs. Frank H. Blessing extended the hospitality of her pretty home to the Mothers' Circle for a delightful social afternoon Monday.

There was a large attendance of members and the spontaneous flow of conversation over knitting and fancy work was only suspended when the hostess served delicious refreshments.

We are told, on the always dependable authority of Anne Rittenhouse, that the hour of the necklace is here. Naturally with peace the return of society functions and evening gowns, there will be a corresponding demand for jewelry. But this new necklace craze is not the demand for precious stones alone, it calls for the gay, the bizarre, the oriental the wonderful unique things that French designers have brought back from the past, many of them barbaric in their splendor. Some are being found in antique shops, where the proprietors have not yet awakened to the popularity and others are finding their way from French shops across the sea, some of them attached to expensive gowns.

There are alluring jet necklaces, carved in China and the brightest quality of quartz is much in vogue.

It is claimed that in America there is a vast store house of lovely geological formations which, if given the artistic touch, would create a tremendous demand for the American necklace. America has been doing everything else, why shouldn't the best craftsmen be called to this work and give to American jewelry a wide commercial market.

Miss Miriam Fite entertained ten girls with an informal little theatre and card party combined, Monday night.

After enjoying Ethel Barrymore in "Our Mrs. McChesney" at the Palace Theatre, the guests were charmingly entertained at the Fite home on East Temple street.

Dainty refreshments were served. The guests included: Misses Mary Craig, Florence Boggs, Elizabeth Sheen, Mary Elizabeth Johnson, Edith Hamm, Jean Howat, Louise and Mary Weaver and Mrs. Heber McCoy.

Mrs. Alvin Hyer, of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. W. F. Rowe of Washington C. H., are spending Christmas week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Richards, on North Walnut street.—Wilmington News.

Rev. Dr. Frederick E. Ross, pastor of the Third Avenue M. E. Church of Columbus, who addressed the Century Club and its invited guests today is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wilby G. Hyde of East Fifth street.—The Chillicothe News Advertiser.

The young ladies, who call themselves the Micky-Micky-B-B Club, also enjoyed a slumber party at the Bright home and breakfast this morning. Those present were Miss Louise Parret, Miss Margery McDonald, Miss Joy McWilliams and the hostess, Miss Bright.—Wilmington News.

Others of the party are planning to return early in January to the Somme area, where the unit's reconstruction work was interrupted last spring by the German advance.

Announcement

IT has long been the policy of this establishment to reduce its surplus stocks during the month of January. Stocks of Ready-to-Wear, Millinery and those items which change in style from season to season are always sold at very low prices. ¶ This season we find our departments filled with merchandise. All of which is very desirable, yet must be reduced before our annual inventory is taken. ¶ This surplus will be sold in the usual January Clearance Sale, but this sale will be far greater than ever before. This will be, we believe, the greatest sale we have ever held for the simple reason that we will have far more merchandise to offer at greater price reductions. ¶ Announcement of prices, etc., will appear in next Thursday's issue of this paper, and it will be to everyone's interest to study same carefully. ¶ The sale will commence on next Friday morning, January Third.

RECTOR EMERITUS DIES

(By Associated Press)
New York, December 31.—The death yesterday of Right Rev. Frederick Courtney, rector emeritus of St. James's Church, of this city, a former Episcopal Bishop of Nova Scotia, and one of the most widely known churchmen in this country, was announced today.

NEW BRANCH OF DAHL-CAMPBELL NOW ON ITS OWN

Branch at Chillicothe To be Conducted Separately and Is Third Branch of The Midland Grocery Co.

The Dahl-Campbell Branch, wholesalers, located in Chillicothe, and which for the past 16 or 18 months has been managed as a part of the firm in this city, has been formally designated as a separate branch of The Midland Grocery Company, and will be managed accordingly, with Mr. W. M. Campbell, of this city the general manager, and Mr. A. F. Kyte assistant manager.

The Chillicothe branch of the firm already employs about 40 persons and is growing rapidly. Six traveling salesmen now work out of the Chillicothe Branch, and the prospects for the future of the concern, under the expert management of Messrs. Campbell and Kyte, are very bright indeed.

New departments are being added to the Chillicothe Branch, and it is not only now a complete wholesale plant in itself, but is being conducted along strictly modern ideas.

The funeral services of Mrs. T. C. Jamison were held Monday at the home in Columbus, 2922 North High Street, and the body shipped to her home town Chariton, Iowa, Monday night for interment.

The husband was too ill to make the trip West and neither was his father, Mr. Jacob Jamison, of this city able to go. Mrs. Jamison's mother, Mrs. B. Bellor, of Chariton, and one sister, who resides in Texas, came out for the services and made the sad return trip with all that was mortal. Mr. Jamison's sister, Mrs. Robert Clement, of Chicago, who has been visiting her father here, was also at the services. Mr. Wilbur Collins, an uncle, went up a few days ago but was prevented by illness from returning Monday.

Undertaker Klever, who had the funeral arrangements and shipment later in charge, and has been in Columbus since Monday morning, returned Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Joseph S. Smith and son Edward, of the O. S. U. with the little daughter, Doris Jamison, and Mrs. Irwin Boggs, went over from Circleville to attend the services.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Easier, Quicker
and Without the Blister

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white cream. It takes the place of out-of-date mustard plasters, and will not blister. Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

GOODBY, WOMEN'S TROUBLES

The tortures and discomforts of work, lame and aching back, swollen feet and limbs, weakness, dizziness, nausea, as a rule have their origin in kidney trouble, not "female complaints." These general symptoms of kidney and bladder disease are well known—so is the remedy.

Next time you feel a twinge of pain in the back or are troubled with headache, indigestion, insomnia, irritation in the bladder or pain in the loins and lower abdomen, you will find quick and sure relief in GOLD MEDAL Haaslem Oil Capsules. This old and tried remedy for kidney trouble and allied derangements has stood the test for hundreds of years. It does the work. Pains and troubles vanish and new life and health will come as you continue their use. When completely restored to your usual vigor, continue taking a capsule or two each day.

WOULD ELIMINATE GERMAN LANGUAGE FROM THE SCHOOLS

(By Associated Press)

New York, December 30.—A nationwide campaign is being conducted by "The American Defense Society to eliminate the teaching of German in the schools throughout the United States. In a letter written the teachers of public schools, private schools and colleges throughout the country the Society urges that French, Italian, Spanish and Russian should be given prominence in the curriculum with a view to strengthening trade relations between these countries. The letter which is signed by Dr. William T. Hornaday, reads:

"Reports are rife that with the ending of the war there is to be an attempt to force upon our American youth the language of the people whose hands are stained with the blood of their fathers and brothers. The German language had been used as a weapon directed at the hearts of the America by German propagandists. It is the opinion of many of our prominent educators that German is not an essential in any course of study, and it is to be hoped that our American youth will not permit it being forced upon them for any reason whatsoever. The next five years will witness a crystallization of educational opinion and upon that crystallization will depend the future of American education.

"For those who would study a language for its future utility the choice lies between French, Italian, Spanish and Russian as our trade relations with these countries will be immeasurably increased now that peace is in sight. To study German would be to condone the atrocities perpetrated by the people who speak this language."

YANKS WERE FED ON SOUP AT RASTATT

"Chief" Kennedy Interviews
Yanks Just Back From German Prison Camps,
Who Tell of Harsh Treatment.

Red Cross and "Y" Saved Their Lives Declare The Yanks Who Had Lived on
Soup and "Bread."

Writing from Vichy, France, where he has been in a hospital for some time recovering from wounds, "Chief" Clarence Kennedy, formerly of M Company, gives a most interesting interview with American soldiers just back from German prison camps, and these soldiers give the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. credit for saving their lives while imprisoned. His letter follows:

Vichy, France, Dec. 9, 1918.

Editors The Herald:—

Just a brief description of prisoner's life in a German prison camp, as described to me by American who just returned last evening. Seven hundred and fifty men in this group were returned by the Swiss route. They were well clothed and as a whole, looked in good physical condition. The reason of their being well clothed was, they had been equipped by the Americans, each man had been issued a new uniform, campaign hats and each man wearing a white star on red background to designate him as a returning prisoner.

Taken During July

Most of the men in this company were taken prisoner during the offensive of July, at the Marne river and Champagne fronts. Some few from the front around Metz. The few that were captured at various parts of the lines were, as a rule, men on patrol in No Man's Land or men taken in raids against our front lines.

Soup and Bread

The treatment as a whole to the American prisoners, they say, was better than to the other allied troops. When they were first captured they were compelled to act as litter bearers, carrying back the German wounded. Others were used to bury the dead. Sgt. Hauck of the Third Division was one of the prisoners taken in July, and he was taken back to prison camp. For five days they had nothing to eat only what they were able to pick up themselves, so you can see that "Heine" did not treat our men as we did him. For the first 2 months they were in prison camps they were fed very poorly. Soup and bread was all that was given them as rations. The soup was always made of vegetables with no meaty fats or grease of any kind. The bread was made of substitutes for flour, and sawdust was one of the main substitutes, each man received a piece of this bread about five inches square and two inches thick every twenty-four hours. At the end of two months the Red Cross began to get the boxes of provisions through to them and from that time on they were able to live a bit better, as these boxes were all well packed and reached the men in good condition. A Y. M. C. A. man came into the prison camp and helped the men in every way that was possible. Many prisoners were sent out into private homes of the farming districts. These men as a rule had everything for the best. They report that the people were kind to them as a rule, and would give them more to eat than they had themselves.

Had Living Death

The Russian and Italian prisoners were treated much worse than any of the other prisoners. They were compelled to do all kinds of heavy, dirty work and even to work in the mines for the Germans and were very poorly fed, clothed and quartered. The English were very little thought of by the Germans and were very poorly taken care of. The French had things very much like the Americans. The Americans, who were prisoners, say that at the last the people of Germany had very little use for their own soldiers, and had much respect for the Americans and their manly principles. The German soldiers tell our men that in their opinion the Americans were excellent soldiers although foolish, because in battle, when surrounded they still continued to fight instead of surrendering. This is one thing that the Germans could never get accustomed to in our fighting.

Hun Propaganda

Several of the boys had papers printed by the Germans and circulated through the prison camps. These papers were always printed in English and had pictures of the prisoners in the camp. The propaganda that these papers tried to carry never broke the morale of our boys. One paper I saw carried an article which was trying to cause a break between the French and American prisoners. This article was supposed to be signed and sworn to by a French non-commissioned officer, stated that the men of the 42nd or Rainbow Division were killing all the Germans who they were able to capture. That this was untrue was plain to be seen; it stated that these men were armed with a large knife to behead all men they captured.

One article quotes Sgt. Pratt as making the statement that the Germans spread poisoned candy among the children of invaded territory, and then would gloat and laugh at the misery they caused. This they deny, yet the entire world knows that it is no lie, and is only one of the many hideous crimes they committed against innocent people of invaded territories. Other articles were of a nature to create an ill feeling between England and America. Again their time and efforts were wasted, for this war with its intermingling of American and English forces has been a tie binding them closer together blotting out the memories of the days gone before.

Had Own Cemetery

At this prison camp of Rastatt the American prisoners had their own cemetery, and each man who died was buried with military honors. The men were allowed to attend the funeral services, and many times two or three hundred would accompany their comrade to his final resting place. The body was placed in a box, the Germans giving a floral wreath and cross, the Y. M. C. A. or Red Cross also giving a wreath. The men would carry the remains to burial grounds which were about a mile and a quarter from the camp, on their shoulders. Later they were furnished a conveyance, and in some manner were able to secure an American flag which was used by them to cover the last remains of their comrade. Services were held at the grave and taps were sounded.

Chain Guard Effective

Some men tried to make their escape and were successful. More often they were recaptured and confined in close quarters with very little to eat as punishment. The prisoners say that it was no trick to get away from camp, the hardest place to pass was the Rhine river and the Swiss border which were patrolled by what the Germans call a chain guard; this is nothing more than a double line of guards one traveling the opposite direction of the other. This is a very hard line to get through, and the only hope an escaping prisoner had was of catching them making the morning relief that was at two o'clock.

A New Spirit of Good Will

Thanks to the opportunity given it by the War Department at home and abroad, a new spirit of good will has grown up around Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

Wherever soldiers meet, this car is spoken of in terms of admiration and even affection.

Soldiers grow to love the tools and weapons and implements that serve them.

They admire especially the inanimate thing that shows grit and endurance in a tight place.

That is American—and that is the American soldier in particular — and that is the sort of glory being woven around Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

There will always be associated with it the remembrance of the work it did in the world war in army service on both sides of the ocean.

Thousands of American soldiers are coming back now from the camps in America and the battle-front in France, telling how well that work was done.

They are telling it to their fathers and mothers, their worshipping small brothers, their sisters, their sweet-hearts and their friends.

It is the central figure in many a stirring story told about the family fireplace.

To many a white-haired American mother it means something more, as it goes by, than just a motor car.

She links it, somehow, with what her own boy did, with what America did, and with what America stands for.

Dodge Brothers are proud that theirs was the one car of its type and class chosen by the War Department.

They are prouder still that it has been taken into the hearts and homes of the American people.

The old folks, and the little folks who don't forget, are spreading a haven of good will which will endure for years to come.

Dodge Brothers cherish this new spirit of good will which has come out of the world war as their most valued possession.

SEES DISASTER TO HUN TRADE

Sidney, Australia, December 29.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Albert Ballin, general director of the Hamburg-American Steamship Co., who is reported to have committed suicide just before the signing of the armistice, had predicted disaster for the German overseas trade as an outcome of the war. This is disclosed by the publication here of a letter which Herr Ballin had written in December, 1917, apparently to Dr. Rothenan, a privy counselor at Berlin. A copy of this letter was made public here by J. M. Paxton, a resident of Sidney, who received it from a friend in London. In it Ballin declared that whether Germany or England was victorious in the war the consequences to German foreign trade would be disastrous. The letter reads in part:

"Most of what we read in the newspapers as to our preparedness for unbartering on brisk trade and manufacturing as soon as peace has been concluded is, I fear, written with the manifest intention of heartening our people who are notoriously ignorant of our actual economic conditions and of what threatens them."

He said that the German mercantile marine was in "a perilous condition" and that the bill to re-establish and strengthen it, which at the time of writing was before the Reichstag, would show no results for at least five years. In that time Germany's great maritime competitors, Britain and the United States and Japan and the neutrals, Norway, Denmark and Holland, would profit enormously.

Ballin reminded his friend that he (Ballin) vainly begged Berlin authorities not to engage in unrestricted and submarine warfare; and he continued:

"You and I know that the Americans are probably the most idealistic nation on the earth's surface. In antagonizing America we have done a disastrous thing, a thing which will throw a cold shadow on our economic life for a generation." The letter part of Ballin's letter ran:

"But if I am concerned about our relations with the United States, I am still more anxious about our relations with Britain. I realize as never before that all the increase in our wealth, all the success which attended our enterprises in the year before the war, were owing to our intercourse with the British Empire. Her home ports, her dominions and colonies were freely opened to our shippers and traders. Sometimes I wondered at this generosity, and even called it folly. Is it to be imagined for a moment that those old relations will return?"

RIVAL INDIANS BURY HATCHET FOR ALL TIME

Alaskan Tribes Who Have Often Clashed Agree on Lasting Peace

Sitka, Alaska, Dec. 30.—(By Associated Press)—War, mostly of the smoldering variety but which in past generations has blazed up and drawn blood, no longer exists between the Sitka and Wrangell clans of the Kock-Wan-Ton caste of Thlinket Indian tribes of southern Alaska. Peace was declared at a meeting on November 11, the same day on which the world war armistice was signed.

Democratic principles, taught the younger Indians by the United States government teachers, prevailed at the peace conference. The Indians decided to set aside their tribal customs. Disputes, the Indians decided, in the future, will be settled by the white man's law, instead of by hostilities.

No Indian now living can remember the time when the Sitkas and Wrangells were at peace. There has been bad blood between them for years. The last futile attempt to make peace took place in the early eighties, when Jack Yaguan, father of one of the delegates at the last meeting, led his tribe of Sitkas to Wrangell to make peace. A war cry greeted their arrival and nearly all the visitors were massacred by the Wrangells. Chief Yaguan was among the Sitkas killed.

Old men of the tribes, it is said, refused to let the hostility die and endeavored to keep alive the fires of hatred. With the passing of many of the old tribesmen, however, the younger men, imbued with the ideas of modern civilization taught them in the government schools, decided they wanted peace.

In 1917, Chief Shaks of the Wrangells opened peace negotiations with Jack Yaguan of the Sitkas. He urged the sending of peace delegates to Wrangell where, he proposed, the leaders of the two clans should heal the old wounds. So at the close of the fishing season a delegation of Sitkas went to Wrangell and, after a week of "pow-wows" decided to let bygones be bygones and to abolish the old customs. Chief Shaks, the father of the peace move, died before the meeting was held.

So now there is peace on the northern waters and islands and the Sitkas and Wrangells will no longer live in fear of each other. When out on their hunting and fishing trips or when laying their winter trap lines they will visit each other and be friends.
